

ou*P*Craft!

our craft compass

My friend Jordan is coming to Chicago. He loves local craft beer, and would like to have a truly local, non-touristy experience. Can you quickly help me find a place to take him?

WHAT IF...

a small, freshly brewed batch of locally crafted beers, paired with local food and music or art was just one click away?

VALUE PROPOSITION

For urban explorers who are eager to discover hyper-local experiences,

OuiCraft! is a responsive digital platform that provides curated and playful navigation to local craft brews, eats and beats on the go.

Unlike Trip Advisor and Yelp, OuiCraft! knows your tastes and location, and proposes a finite number of specific, local options.

RELEVANT TRENDS

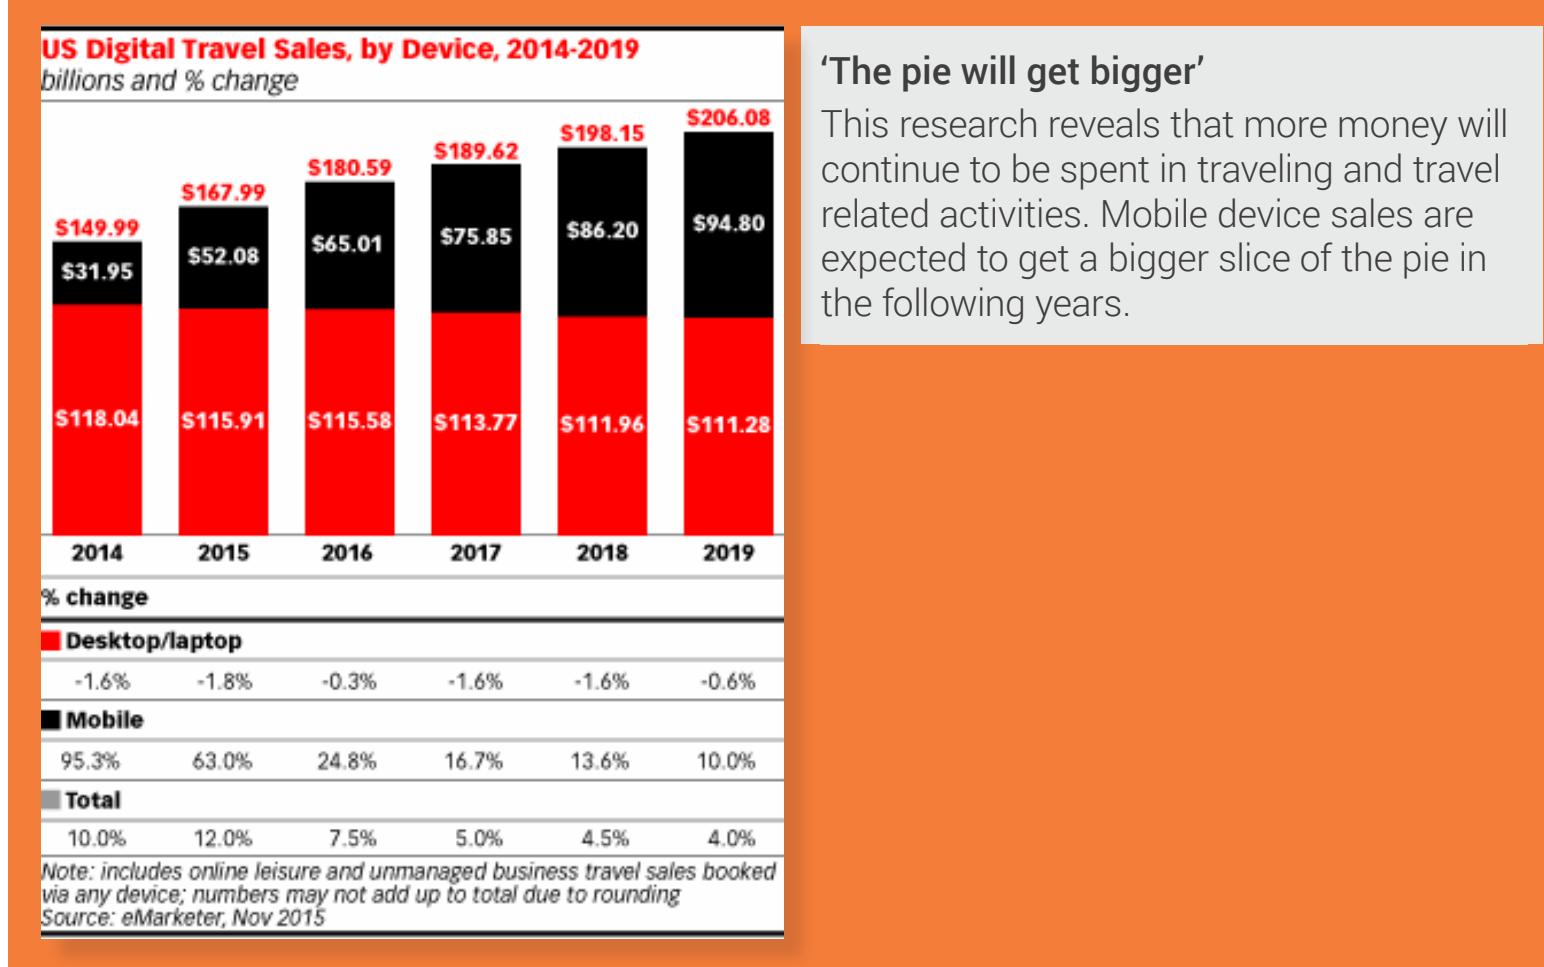

INSIGHT #1

U.S. craft beer industry growth

Since 2008, Microbreweries and Brewpubs have grown at an increasing rate, and are expected to continue growing in the years to come.

'The pie will get bigger'

This research reveals that more money will continue to be spent in traveling and travel related activities. Mobile device sales are expected to get a bigger slice of the pie in the following years.

INSIGHT #2

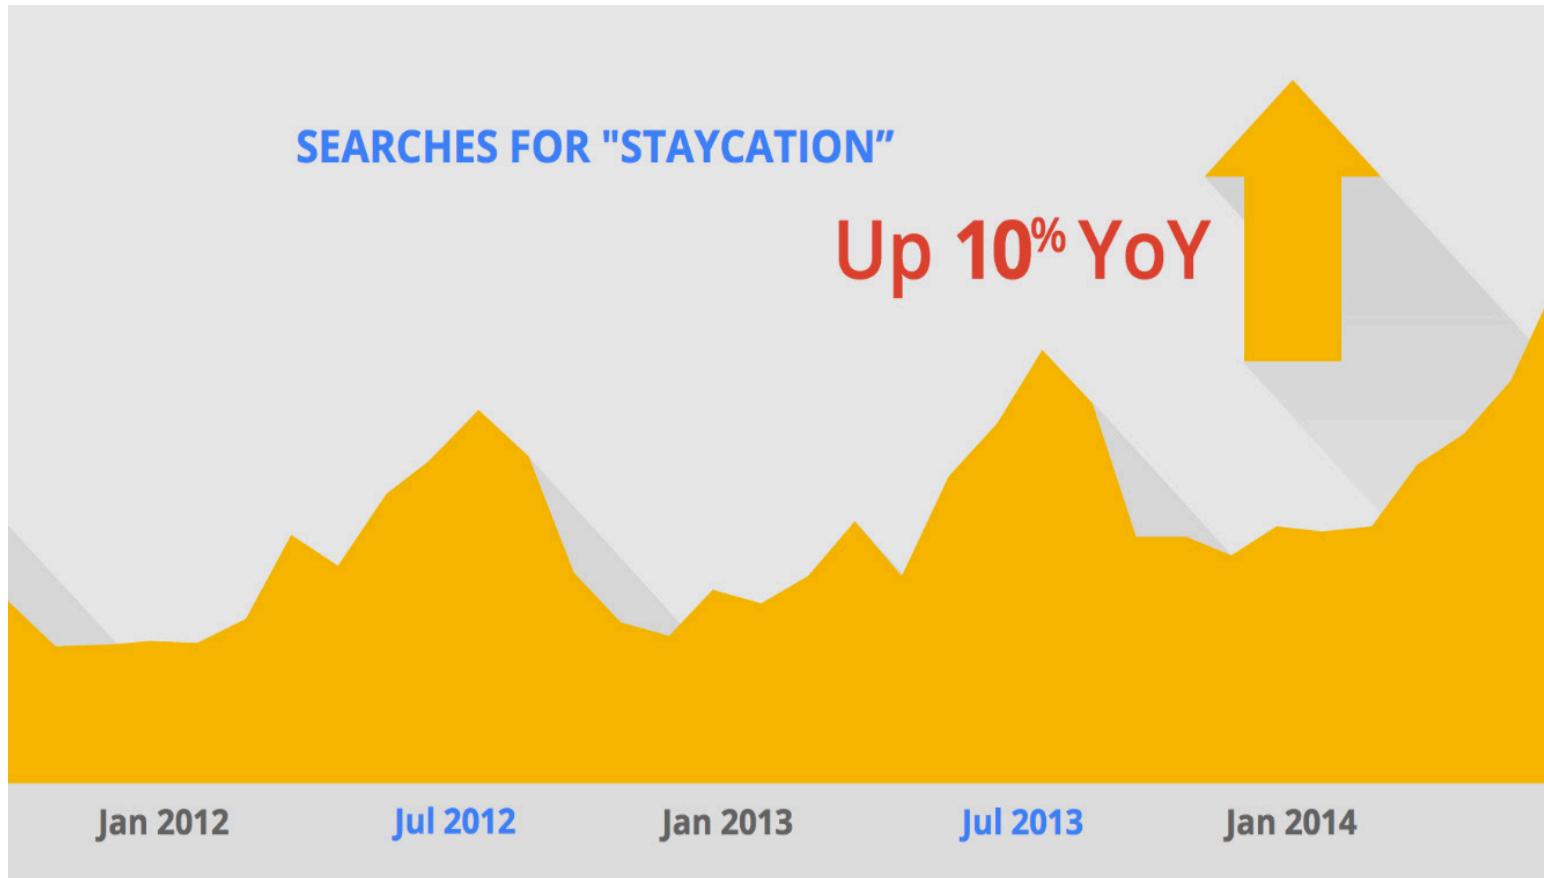

Experiences 'on-the-go'

'Micro-moments' is a term coined by Google to describe the moment when someone acts on a need "on the go".

People use mobile devices to get information and buy experiences as they need them, thus making decisions based on real-time data.

10 TYPES OF INNOVATION

ROADMAP

ROADMAP

TESTING PHASE #1: EXPERIENCE INNOVATION

WHAT?

Critical mass allows indirect marketing

Location + Beer & Pairings preferences

ASSUMPTIONS

Location & Pairings

Consumers will value a hyper-local, paired, spontaneous offering

Consumers will provide enough feedback behavioral data for the platform to grow and improve with critical mass of uptake.

HOW WILL WE TEST?

In-field consumer observations and interviews: conduct tests with individuals at local breweries and small restaurants (with more than just beer) to explore consumer needs, responses and engagement with prototypes

Concept video: create a simple, short video illustrating how the app works, and upload it to craft beer online communities, blogs, and craft beer organizations' websites. Track engagement and feedback.

TESTING PHASE #2: PRODUCT INNOVATION

WHAT?

Gamification
+ find local place, review

ASSUMPTIONS

Gamification: virtual to real

Consumers will see value in the gamified experience, and try to capture as many beers as they can.

HOW WILL WE TEST?

In-field consumer observations and interviews: paper and digital prototypes to understand how people would interact with the app, and how they would navigate transitioning from something virtual (grabbing the beer) to something real (buying it).

TESTING PHASE #3: CONFIGURATION INNOVATION

WHAT?

Users'
Freemium

Producers'
Membership

Financial platform embedded

ASSUMPTIONS

Membership

Small brewers and restaurants will pay a membership for our app in order to market themselves to a larger public.

Financial platform embedded

Financial aspect of app will simplify and increase amount of transactions between producers and consumers.

HOW WILL WE TEST?

Producers co-creation sessions: meet with brewers and small restaurants at their places to conduct interviews and workshops and define concept with them.

Preliminary investigation: online and in-field research to find patterns on how local beer producers and small restaurants market themselves.

In-field consumer and producer observations and interviews: conduct interviews, and observe users (both producers and consumers), to understand how they deal with payments, pain points, and how these change according to different consumer use cases.
